“Certified Research Administrator”

...an accomplishment demonstrating experience, expertise, and ongoing involvement in the profession of Research Administration

As administration of the Research Enterprise grows increasingly visible and bound by a myriad of growing legal and ethical complexities, the need to demonstrate an individual's ability to meet these important challenges is validated by attaining the “Certified Research Administrator” ... the CRA.

The CRA is a nationally recognized certification, administered by the Research Administration Certification Council (RACC). It is attained by meeting educational and experience requirements and successfully completing a comprehensive, 250 question examination. This examination covers the whole scope of Research Administration as outlined in RACC's “Body of Knowledge.” For more information on the CRA, please visit RACC's web site at <http://cra-cert.org>.
