

RFP

Request for Participation

The SRA (Society of Research administrators, International) Taskforce on Gustatorial Collaboration and Enhancement (TGCE) seeks qualified (or nearly qualified) respondees to contribute to the promulgation of its upcoming Superior Recipe Acquisition (SRA, also).

Purpose of this solicitation:

1. To share the cultural richness of SRA (society via SRA (cookbook)
2. 2. To allow researchers to contribute to a continuing resources (cookbook) that will enhance the SRA (Society) mission, whatever that might be.
3. To get some really cool recipes.

Guidelines

1. Recipes must conform to the high priority areas as indicated in the Table of Contents below.

IRB/Human Subjects – Hors d'oeuvres and before dinner drinks

Pilot Data – Salads and the like

Dissemination and Regulation Vegetables and side dishes

IACUC/Animal Subjects- Meats and Main Courses

Modifications and Amendments—Breads and Rolls

Longitudinal Studies Crockpot and “cooks all day” stuff

Indirect Cost Desserts and Sweet Regrets

In addition, the Taskforce seeks volunteers to work on the following Circulars pertinent to the project.

Circular OMB RAP1 Research administrator entertainment protocols

Circular OMB E 110 Environmental Concerns, Music, general atmosphere appropriate to a research administrator event.

OMB 122.3479/C122.3479/C Compliance and Negotiations Compliance and Negotiations— Party food and drinks

2. Recipes must be submitted via the Electronic Good Recipe Utilization Bureaucracy (E-GRUB). The submission template is attached to your convenience.

Deadline (What do you think? July 1, 2007? Recipes submitted after the deadline is passed are in danger of being accepted, but don't procrastinate too long.

Contact: Spanky—mccallisterj@uindy.com +1-317-781-5766 or Dennis dcarpenter@srainternational.org, +1-703-741-0140, ext 14

FAQ

1. How will the recipes appear in the SRA (cookbook)?
There is an example attached to this announcement.
2. Can we submit recipes with tacky research administrations names?
Yes, it's encouraged.
3. How will we secure copies of the SRA (cookbook)?
From the SRA (Society) Store on-line or at the annual and section conferences.
4. What is the anticipated publication date?
We intend for the SRA (cookbook) to come out at the SRA(society) meeting in Nashville, October 2007.
5. Must the recipes be original?
This is research administration and we acknowledge the importance of a firm foundation in the literature, which means yes you can borrow from non-copyrighted sources or make adjustments in the recipe which, of course, makes it your own, just like our researchers do all the time.
6. What are the criteria for acceptance?
Submission of recipes via E-Grub.
7. Who is on the TGCE?
Spanky McCallister
Beth Seaton
Jim Randolph
Dorothy Yates
Merrill Helferrich
Marcia Trudgen- chef du Nord
Mary Spina- Sou-Chef
Michael Owen- Sommelier

(Other titles might include chef de patie, chef de cuisine
Pastry chef, saucier, etc., depending on who wants to play with which parts recipes. Of course accuracy isn't really required.)