

*The PAUL MARKS
PRIZE
for Cancer Research*

MEMORIAL
SLOAN-KETTERING
CANCER CENTER

Previous winners:*

Angelika Amon, PhD
Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Yuan Chang, MD
University of Pittsburgh Cancer Institute

Arul M. Chinnaiyan, MD, PhD
University of Michigan

Titia de Lange, PhD
The Rockefeller University

John F. X. Diffley, PhD
Cancer Research UK, London

Stephen J. Elledge, PhD
Baylor College of Medicine

Todd R. Golub, MD
Broad Institute

Gregory J. Hannon, PhD
Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory

Tyler E. Jacks, PhD
Massachusetts Institute of Technology

William Kaelin Jr., MD
Dana-Farber Cancer Institute

Scott W. Lowe, PhD
Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory

Matthew L. Meyerson, MD, PhD
Dana-Farber Cancer Institute

Nikola Pavletich, PhD
Sloan-Kettering Institute

David M. Sabatini, MD, PhD
Whitehead Institute

Xiaodong Wang, PhD
University of Texas
Southwestern Medical Center

Jeff Wrana, PhD
University of Toronto

Institutions at time of award*

THE PAUL MARKS PRIZE FOR CANCER RESEARCH
MEMORIAL SLOAN-KETTERING CANCER CENTER

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

Honoring the legacy of Paul A. Marks, MD, President Emeritus of Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center and a distinguished scientist, the Paul Marks Prize for Cancer Research recognizes outstanding young investigators who have made significant contributions to increase the understanding of cancer or improve the treatment of the disease through basic or clinical research.

The Paul Marks Prize is now awarded to up to three investigators every other year. The first recipients were named in 2001. The winners will present their work at a scientific symposium at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center. They will share a cash award of $150,000.

Nominees are required to be age 45 or younger on the date of the submission deadline.

All nomination packets should be e-mailed to marksprize@mskcc.org.

Nomination Requirements:

- A letter from the nominator outlining the significance of the accomplishments for which the candidate should be recognized.
- A one-page scientific biography of the candidate.
- A list of up to eight of the candidate's most significant published papers with brief (fewer than 100 words) explanations of the importance of each one.
- The candidate's curriculum vitae.
- Up to three supporting letters.

For any questions, please e-mail marksprize@mskcc.org or call the Office of the President, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center at 212-639-6561.

The submission date for nominations for the 2011 Paul Marks Prize for Cancer Research is April 29, 2011.

For more information, go to www.mskcc.org/marksprize.

Memorial Sloan-Kettering
Cancer Center