Getting Started in Sponsored Research Web Series

This month we're launching a new, live webinar series, called Getting Started in Sponsored Research. The goal of the series is to help folks better understand the nature and function of the sponsored research enterprise. We'll offer this series in six short webinars. While we encourage people to take all the sessions in sequential order, it isn't a requirement. At the end of each 30-minute session, we'll hold live office hours for questions and feedback.

The Getting Started in Sponsored Research webinar series is ideal for faculty, staff, undergraduate and graduate students, postdocs and residents, community members, patients and others who want to see the 30,000-foot view of sponsored research. This live webinar series is offered at no cost.

Sessions

Context for Sponsored Research - Tuesday, July 10 10:00-10:30 c.s.t.
Understanding the Language - Tuesday, July 17 10:00-10:30 c.s.t.
Lifecycle of a Sponsored Project, Part 1 - Tuesday, July 24 10:00-10:30 c.s.t.
Lifecycle of a Sponsored Project, Part 2 - Tuesday, July 31 10:00-10:30 c.s.t.
Research Integrity - Tuesday, Aug 7 10:00-10:30 c.s.t.
Supporting Research - Tuesday, Aug 14 10:00-10:30 c.s.t.

Certificates of completion will be awarded electronically to anyone who completes all six sessions.

More information can be found here: www.vanderbiltlinkages.org